Specially Prepared for Our Feminine Readers.

HOW TO HAVE CURLS

IN RAINY WEATHER.

(Marian Martineau in Chicago Trib

tience, what tear wringing and tear bringing operations are brought into play all for the sake of the little dan-

There are curls and curls. And there are curls that can be bought, fastened upon a halrpin, ready to be stuck into the side of the comfure. These adjustthe side of the confure. These adjust-able curis, as they may be called, are easily purchased, and a perfect "match" can be obtained. But the worry of them is considerable. You work know just where your curl is going to be; and now it is upon your neck and now it is upon the floor. That is the trouble with the adjustable curl, and the woman who wears it win bring down nervous prostration upon her-self, unless, along with the curl, she buys the secret of sticking it into her coffure so that it cannot be parted from the head unless she is scalped. The secret of making the hair curl, so that it may be said to curi "naturally," is locked in the mysterious knowledge of a few hairdressers. There is in Paris one, Marcelle, who can wave your hair so that it will stay waved your hair so that it will stay waved a month, he can curl it so that it will stay waved balls, ready to be taken out and let stay curled an equal length of time; and, as for the little forehead bang, he can give it a twist which will be to the tribulation of the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it a twist which will be the can give it at t can give it a twist which will keep it "in" for a whole week, which is con-siderable for a forehead curl, which lies on the moist skin and is subject to

The hair can be done up in kids and slept in. But the trouble is that there is no difference in the morning. The hair is slightly kinky, but that is all. After being up all night it should be nicely curled in curls that will stay in at least twenty-four hours. Whereas to begin with, and gradually, as the day grows old, they become more and more dispirited until there is no virtue or beauty in them whatsoever.

Now the French, from whom one borrows so many ideas on beauty cul-ture, have a way of keeping the hair They have one specific in pare nearly as tight as it was at first.

The formula used is that which is mployed upon sidns to make them urt, and it contains quicksilver and raps fortis and water. It will remove the skin from the scalp if allowed to the scalp if allowed to the scalp if allowed is always proken in small pieces, never cut and never crumbled into soup or sauce. Oysters and clams are eaten without bread. Butter, of course, is not served at dinner. At other meals don't butter an entire slice the scale in the scale is always proken in small pieces, never cut and never crumbled into soup or sauce. Oysters and clams are eaten without bread. Butter, of course, is not served at dinner. At other meals don't butter an entire slice of the scale in the scale is always proken in small pieces, never cut and never crumbled into soup or sauce.

or this there are various curling fluids dorsed by these who have tried them, he of these is quinthe and water, a good tonic, by the way, for the hair. For coarse hair there is a curling treatment which might be tried by the ne who desires ringlets. This is particularly good for the hair that lies upon the forchead. Take of glycerine haif an onnce and, after the hair has been shampooed, moisten the front locks and do them up. They will be a little stiff, but lie upon the forchead micely.

The same than process wanted.

Soup is taken from the side of the spoon, which is filled by drawing it up from the edge of the soup plate opposite; it is quite a breach of savoir faire to fill it with the movement toward you. Soup, of course, must be taken noiselessly. No one takes a second helping or tips the plate to get it all.

Fish, in days past, was taken from a fork supplemented by a bit of bread; nowadays a silver knife is allowable; forks and knives for fish being made of a special pattern. The king of England takes his fish with two forks, but or this there are various curling fluids and butter a piece as wanted.

Soup is taken from the side of the spoon, which is filled by drawing it up

If soft curls are desired, little ringlets are all exposed to the air. Then dry, take down, and a nice set of little linglets will be found.

The secret of curling the hair on the kid, or other curler, is to let it remain up until every particle of moisture is gone. Hair will often appear to be perfectly dry when it in reality con-lains quite a little dampness, and it is taken down too soon, with the result that it immediately loser its curl.

A young woman who is prominent in society is afflicted with perfectly straight hair; and not only is it traight, but it is wiry and of a coarse, heavy texture. In addition to this her forchead is high, and she has the look of an indian, without the strong attractive features of the race. This tractive features of the race. This young woman has a hairdresser who treats her hair in such a manner that it curls and stays curled. The hair is, of course kept well washed, for you can do nothing with oily hair. Just before the curling it is slightly moistened with spirits of cologne nicely scented with rose. The hair is now put into kids. The kids the pinched with hot irons and are left in the hair. several hours. The hair is then shaken and failued-not combed out, and, the end of an hour or so, is ready the comb. It stays curled three

When time is scarce the hair can be curied by moistening it with alcohol, using a few drops. It is then put into curlers that are not too hot. Hot curl-ers burn the ball and do not persuade it like those that are half warm. Each curl is held in the iron for one whole minute by the clock, and is then re-leased, but not combed out.

There is another treatment for the back hair, when one desires the long, floating curl. This is put up at night, , in the kids and is prepared by ning it through the fingers several times and then rolling it around the kids round and round until the hair lies like a big round bail in the kid. It is not comfortable to sleep upon, but certainly acts as a great curling agency, for, in the morning, there is e most natural curl.

Hair that positively will not curl can be wet with soapy water and put into irons or tins. The hair can then be squeezed with a hot longs. The result squeezed with a hot tongs. The result will be a wiry ourl that will stay in all day and all the evening.

The old-fushioned pressing of the bair with a hot iron carefully employed was not bad. But it required an astistant and it was apt to result in a nurned scalp. But, with a careful maid to help there is no better way than

The philosophy of the hot iron, as applied to the curling of the locks, is that the heat drives out all moisture and, as the moisture goes, the hair beomes pliable and easy to influence. In doing up the hair remember that the main point is the length of time it is in the papers; and also, if heat be employed, the length of time it is held a the irons. Hair which falls straight are minutes after being curied, is hair that was not well dried by the hot The iron was taken away too quince seed days, when quince seed was solled and the thickened juice used for moistening the hair. The hair was fiff, but it certainly kept its curl. If the quince seed ten be used let it be thin and, instead of soaking the hair with ft, let it be barely moistened, then left up until dry. This will make a nice temple curl and one that will "stay in" a long time.

A delightful set curls can be made by wetting the head with a spray of perfume. Merely moisten the head, (Marian Massachus une.)

The bewitching little neck curl affords a new field for woman's endeavor. It looks fine, as it lies along the fair neck of the pretty owner, but, Q, the labor involved in keeping it in curl.

What expenditure of time, of passpossible by a hot fire or radiator before the comb is put into it.

In making waves upon the head have the making waves upon the head have t fore the comb is put into it.

In making waves upon the head have the hair as dry as a bone. Then run the tongs through it, giving them a twist here and there, until the whole head is a mass of waves. Then go over it again, trying to deepen the waves. It is this second going over which dries the hair and makes the waves deeper and more permanent. Hair that has been shampooed will not curl quite so well for a couple of days. The reason is that the moisture still lies in it and, though you are not conscious of it, your hair is still wet. If you will dry it well, holding it in front of the fire, or register, or over the roul of the fire, or register, or over the radiator, until it is as dry as a bone and floating with its own lightness, then you will find it in an admirable condition to wave.

Take it, and, if you desire forehead curls, moisten it with perfume and do it up over night. The back will still be wet enough from the shampooners though you cannot feel it and

Since the world began the severest test of breeding has been table man-There is a correct way of doing everything, no matter how trivial, even to helping one's self to sait or butter. If the hints which follow seem to deal with the smallest details of table etiquette, it must be remembered-al-though it is a trite remark- that it is the morning the cur's are spiritles little things which make up the sum of existence

If the function—breakfast, luncheon or dinner—is one of ceremony and gloves are worn to the table, they are removed as soon as one is seated and laid in the lap. The habit of tucking them in the sleeves, at the wrist, is most inelegant. The napkin is unfold in curi. They have one specific in parincular which not only makes the hair curly, but actually keeps it in curi indefinitely. A French hairdresser, in possession of this secret, will treat your hair, curling as it dries, and will do the work so thoroughly that you come out of the operation with hair that is "naturally curly." And what is more, it will stay in curl several is more, it will stay in curl inthe lap. Gentlemen do not tuck their napkins in their waistcoats, no matter how convenient they may find such as if it were a big cloth, one end is all-sufficient for touching the lips. The napkins, at dinner, placed upon the slices of bread, which must be cut generously thick; the bread is placed upon the napkin, not within its folds. Rethe napkin, not within its folds. Remove the bread as soon as seated, and place it at the left of the plate. The napkin, at the end of the meal, is left of bread at once. Break it into small But the girl who wants to keep her tair in curl must have something turn. Don't break the entire slice at once into bits. Let it lie by the plate

If soft curis are desired, little ringlets to use only water. Let the hair be well washed and dried. Then wet the lock well with water and shake it out. Shake until half dry and put up in kid tollers in such a way that the hairs to touch any the force of the such that the hairs to the such that the hair to the such that the hair to the such that in democratic America the knife is preferred to a second fork. All vege-tables are eaten with a fork, asparabit of food with the fingers, olives and hors d'ocuvres generally excepted. Ice cream is eaten with a fork in America; in England a spoon is used, therefore Americans, suffering from anglophobia, insist upon a spoon when taking their ice cream. With all deference to English customs, a safe rule o eat nothing with a spoon that can taken with a fork. be taken with a fork. Peaches and pears are peeled, cut in half, and then broken by the fork and thus eaten; an orange may be cut in half and then eaten with an orange spoon or it may be neeted entire, then divided into sections and eaten with a

Al lpies are eaten with a fork only and most puddings, except custards, which require a spoon. Soft cakes, like layer cake or eclairs, are taken with a fork. Jellies, no matter how hard. are acten with a spoon. Cheese is eaten with a fork.

There are dozens of people who would be mortally offended by the suggestion that they "ate with the knife." But they must be careful how they thurst a knife into a dish of sweats or of any sauce, and convey that knifeful of these to pieces of break or cake. This is a most unfortunate breach of table manners. Don't use the knife in this connection at all. Sweets and sauces are not to be placed upon the bread in any case. They are acten, when possible, with a fork; otherwise with a spoon. Try to wield your knife, fork, spoon as quietly as possible. Don't let fork or spoon jangle upon the china. A half dozen jangling or scraping plates make a frightful concert. Although it is generally supposed that every one calling himself wellbred knows that in using the knife and fork a movement of the wrist, and not of the elbow, is the proper thing, occasionally people are seen using their el-bows vigorously. The handle of the knife should repose in the center of the hand, and no part of the hand should touch the knife above the handle. In using a fork, only the half of the han-dle is covered by the hand. Upon leaving the table the chair is placed far enough back out of the way to enable the other guests to pass out with ease.

One of the fundamental rules to observe is the manner of sitting down at he table. One should not sit on the dge of the chair; nor sideways; nor hould the back rest continually on the the table back of the chair. An easy, upright po-sition is the proper one. The feet should rest on the floor, and one should sit far enough away from the plate to be able to use the knife and fork without awk-

Bob and Jake.

Representative Beidler came out of the ng in.
"What are they doing in there, Jake?" "Amos Allen of Maine has got up a bill that cuts a lot of ice."

Nevin was interested. "Is that so?" he inquired. "What is it about?"
"It provided for an icebreaker in the Penobscot river."

(Philadelphia Press.)

"You always take things as they come. I should think you'd find that pretty hand sometimes." It's easier, for instance, to take things as they come than to part with them as they go."

Kitchen and Cable.

THE SUNDAY MENU.

Breakfast.
Pork tenderloin. Cereal and cream. Pork t Lyonnalse potatoes. Muffins.

Dinner. Loin of pork, roasted. Turnips,
Bolled rice, gravy. Spinach.
Jelly. Celery salad.
Mince pie. Coffee.

Supper.
Silced tongue. Egg salad. Jan
Cheese straws.
Baked apples with whipped cream.
Cake. Tea.

RECIPES.

Custard.

Beat the yolks of four eggs with a yolks of four eggs want of cupful of sugar, and stir while gradually adding two hot milk. Cook over hot ring constantly until the fourth of a cupful of constantly while grad cupfuls of hot milk. water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens, Chill, and put in cups to harden. Turn them out and serve with a cherry on top of each portion.

Orange Jelly in Skins.

Soak half a box of gelatine over night in just enough cold water to cover it. In the morning wash six large oranges, cut them in halves, large oranges, cut them take out the fruit carefully, and put take out the fruit carefully, and put the unbroken skins in cold water. To the fruit add the juice of two lemon and grated rind of one and a cup and a half of sugar. Stir a cupful of boil a half of sugar. Stir a cuprul of boll-ing water in the gelatine, beat until dissolved, then add to the mixture and strain. Remove the skins from the water, notch or scallop the edges with a sharp knife, fill with the jelly and set in a cold place to harden. Serve with fancy cakes.

Apple Surprises.

Pare and remove cores from fulcy, tart apples; fill the cavities with sugar mixed with cinnamon, chopped raisins and a little butter; then steam until tender, but unbroken. In the mean-time boil rice with salted water until tender, but not mushy, and then drain; when apples are done roll them in beaten egg, then into the rice; set on a buttered dish; dust with pulverized sugar and set in a hot oven for a few moments, just to set the egg. Put a stem in each and serve with lemon or maple sugar sauce.

Apple Sponge.

Grate two large, firm pippins or greenings into a bowl and cover with one and a half cups of powdered sugar, adding the sugar to the apple as you grate to prevent the discoloring of the apple; beat the whites of two eggs until frothy, but not stiff: add to the ap-ples and continue beating until so still it will not drop from the bowl when inverted. Line a glass dish with thin slices of stale sponge cake or lady fin-gers, and then heap in the sponge, dust powdered macaroons over the top or a few chopped almonds, and serve very cold.

Rye Cakes.

Mix together three-fourths cup of rye meal, three-fourths cup of flour, half a level teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of sugar and two level tea-spoonfuls of baking powder; stir in half a cup of milk and one egg beaten light; beat thoroughly and drop by teaspoonfuls into deep, hot fat; cook until they turn over and brown.

Curried Eggs.

Boil three eggs twenty minutes, re-move the shell, cut in quarters or in slices; cook one small slice of onion in one tablespoon of butter till soft and colored a little; add one-half level and colored a little; add one-half level tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed with one teaspoon of curry powder; add gradually half a cup each of milk, cream and strained tomato; salt and pepper to season; stir over the fire until boiling and smooth; add the eggs and serve hot.

Potato Loaf.

Two cups of mashed potatoes, one egg well beaten, one cup of cold chicken, shredded fine; add a little melted butter, salt and pepper, mix thoroughly; shape into a loaf; bake brown.

Delicate Pudding.

Two-thirds of a cup of orange juice. one-third of a cup of lemon fulce, one cup of water, the whites of three eggs, three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, a pinch of salt, and sugar to sweeten; put the fruit juice and water over the fire, sweeten to taste, and when boil-ing, stir in the cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water; boil slowly ten minutes and add the whites of the eggs beaten stiff; mix well, take from the fire and turn into mould that has been dipped into cold water; serve cold with the yolks of the eggs added to one pint of milk, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, and cook in the double boiler until creamy; when cool, add a little va-

Corn Bread Muffins.

Put one pint of yellow meal into a bowl; put in the center one tablespoonful of shortening, either butter or lard; ful of shortening, either butter or larg; pour over sufficient boiling water to thoroughly scald the meal, making it moist but not too wet; add one tra-spoonful of salt and stand it aside over night; in the morning separate three eggs; beat the whites, then the yolks, and mix the two together; add to the and mix the two together, and to the meal a sufficient amount of hot water to make a batter as thick as for wheat mufflins; stir in the eggs; add two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder; have the mufflin rings greased and placed on a griddle; put two tablespoonfuls of the mixture in each ring; bake slowly until brown, turn and brown other side; remove rings.

TOILET HINTS.

The Latest Stain Remover. To take out fruit stains from cotton, muslin or any light article, take the stained article and dampen it. Then burn a little sulphur, holding it under the damp portion of the cloth, and the stain will vanish.

Care of the Nails.

Fresh Air.

The air is a cordial of incredible value. It is the close confinement indoors that kills, for human beings were not made to live constantly within walls. Energy and force of characteristics and stands and stands of the confinement. ter, strong muscles and steady nerves come from the stimulus of outdoor ex-ercises and physical contact with the earth. Luxurious homes and habits of indolence are responsible to no inconsiderable degree for the ill health of civilized communities. Breathe pure and fresh air, and get all you can of it, for it is food as essential as bread and other articles of daily necessity.

learning how to use glycerine, and have more to learn yet. Its principal use is to prevent evaporation of fluids from the skin, keeping it moist and soft. A the skin, keeping it moist and soft. A tablespoonful—that is, a half ounce—of glycerine to a six-ounce bottle of face lotion prevents it from drying and gives the skin full benefit of the liquid. Glycerine is better as a hair tonic than as a face wash. Two ounces of glycerine, two of filtered water and two of alcohol or cologne, shaken together, form an excellent lotion for massage of the scalp. A flannel wet with the liquid applied to the head an inch or two at a time, and the scalp rubbed two at a time, and the scalp rubbed vigorously with the fingers till the fluid dries. "Rubbing in" any salve lotion means that it is rubbed until it dries and disappears from the surface com-pletely,—American Herald. FASHION NOTES.

For the Home Seamstress.

To make a pretty and comfortable petitionat, cut the skirt about a quarter of a yard shorter than walking length. of a yard shorter than walking length. Make it the same length all around. Sew this on the machine. Sew on the hem a plaited silk ruffle, cut on the straight of the material, about six inches deep. On the edge of the plaited ruffle sew a narrow bias ruffle about two inches deep. Do not set the ruffles on the skirt proper as the skirt is easler to walk in, wears better and rustless more if the ruffles are set on the bottom. Small plaits are prettier than large ones.

A little less way to roam;
A drawing near to a peaceful voyage and a happy welcome home.

—William Todd Helmuth. large ones.

A Dress For a Young Miss.

Mousseline de sole is a prety material

Home-made Panne Velvet.

As panne velvet is used so much for belts, bodice trimmings, hats, crushed collars and the like, it is a joy to the economical housewife to realize that in her old scrap bag she can undoubtedly find material enough to help out her winter costumes. The directions for transforming pin-pricked, shabby velate are: Use for the purpose a good steel-faced iron, perfectly clean and smooth on both sides and face. Have the iron only moderately hot. Spread the velvet face upward on a clean ironing board and smooth it with the iron, taking great pains to press the right way of the nap, as it must be ironed the way the pile faces best. Keep the iron moving all the time, for if alolwed to stand at all it leaves a mark that you cannot set out. After going all over the surface of the dry velvet, ironing always in the same direction steam the velvet.

Why should a woman who knows mother, but to the woman who heavouter in the woman who knows mother, but to the woman who knows mother, but to the woman who knows mother, but to the woman who has in the belier, that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fullaby.

Such a man is never a lover of self; that it is a fu face of the dry velvet, ironing always in the same direction, steam the velvet thoroughly and then go over it a second time. You cannot press too much. provided you always keep the iron run-ning with a heavy, even stroke. This soon transforms it into the fashionable shimmering panne.

How to Make a Fancy Boa.

Theatre boas are usueally made of chiffon, mouselline de sole or net. A pretty one is of white net with black rings a quarter of an inch apart. It has three ruches of graduated widths falling on the shoulders, cape fashion, and two narrower ones standing up close to the neck. Each ruche is edged with tiny ruffles of white gathered ribon—the kind that is warm with each bon-the kind that is woven with core is drawn in the center. The long stole ends are full width of the net and any length preferred and trimmed according to one's taste. The boa is mounted in the center of two yards of white lousine silk ribbon, which ties at the throat in a soft bow with long loops. To make this boa without the long ends it requires three and a quarter yards twenty inches wide or two and three-puarter yards twenty inches wide or two and three-puarter yards twenty inches wide or two and three-puarter yards twenty inches wide. quarter vards twenty-seven inches -the usual width of net and chiffon. The ends require twice the length selected, which is usually about forty inches.

In the Laundry.

Wash day is the bete noir of many a household. There is really no reason why it should be. The results of the day make everyone sweeter, neater and cleaner. Here are a few suggestions that will make the day easier and happing.

should be first wrung out of cold water and then boiled fifteen minutes in water in which plenty of soap has been dissolved. Two rinsings should make them pure and white.

Clothes look better from which the water is dripping when hung upon the line than those which have been tightly

When clothes are very soiled the spots should be rubbed with a fibre bristic brush. An excellent washing fluid is made by adding to the water in the boller one tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine and one teaspoonful of ammonia nl washing curtains put them in the tub and wet them with coal oil. Then pour hot suds upon them. They should be drawn many times through the fingers to strip them of dirt and then rinsed twice.

Ginghams soaked in salt water will Silk handkerchiefs should be washed alone in luke-warm water and rinsed three times in cold water. Then blue them and iron them before they are

Dainty dollies, tray cloths and centerpieces should be washed with castile Always iron them on the wrong

A Rome Circle. 14

Beauty and the Bath,

When the woman who has refused to keep pace with the world looks solemnly at you and shakes her head, when she say: "My dear, you bathe much too often; you are washing away your vitality," take her out some fine day where she can see society on dress

Care of the Nails.

Always wash in hot water and soak the fingers in it, using plenty of soap. When quite soft use a stiff nailbrush and plenty of soap. If the nails are still dirty, clean them with a piece of sharply pointed orangewood, so as not to scratch the nails. When doing any kind of dirty work always wear gloves.

Value of Hot Miik,

Hot milk is the newest panacea for all complexion ills. If the face be wrinkled, sallow or otherwise afflicted, hot milk, says the enthusiast over this new remedy, will produce a cure. Converts declare that the face, after being washed with milk at night, feels wonderfully refreshed, while the skin soon becomes very white and soft.

Fresh Air.

day the woman who considers one

Today the woman who considers one bath a week sufficient to keep her in health and beauty is in danger of being shelved, and as a compliment to Baltimore it may be said that very few of our women do it.

A tender little baby is buthed daily and clothed in fresh, sweet garments. This habit is kept up until the child is able to go about. Then the careless mother changes her methods, and the bath comes not oftener than once a week. Habits which made the health of the child are no lenger considered advisable, principally because they mean work.

One morning, as he returned from Mrs. Stowe's minus necktie and collar, Mrs. Clemens met him on the doorstep. "There, now," she said, "you have been over to the Stowe's gain without a necktie! It's really disgraceful the way you neglect your attire!"

Her husband said nothing, but went up to bis room. A few minutes later by a mesenger, who presented her with a small box neatly done up. She opened it and found a black silk nectic, accompanied by the following note: "Here is a necktie. Take it out and look at it. I think I stayed at your house half sideration. If she ever acquires the bathing babit she must do it unaided by home influence. That is the way in which many of our prettlest women came up. But they never acquired a well-groomed appearance until they had learned the value of water. Now they swim with their brothers and sideration. they swim with their brothers and compete with tham in other outdoor sports, finishing with a rub down.

Growing Old.

- A little more gray in the lessening A little more gray in the lessenme hair.

 Each day as the years go by:
 A little more stooping in the form,
 A little more dim in the eye.
 A little more faltering of the step As we tread life's pathway o'er,
 And a little marer every day
 To the ones who have gone before.
- A little more halting of the galt, And a dullness of the ear; A growing weariness of the frame With each swift passing year. A fading of hopes, and ambitions, to A faltering in life's quest, And a little neare every day and ambitions, too.
- And a happy welcome home,

 -William Todd Helmuth.

The Best Husbands.

The genius will do to admire at for a young girl's reception dress, and made in three deep flounces on the skirt, falling from a yoke of Venetian point or Arabian lace, is particularly suited to slender figures. Each flounce band. A woman does well when she loving man that makes the best hus-band. A woman does well when she sends forth the dove of her affection suited to slender figures. Each flounce has two plaitings, fully nine inches wide, in the edge, the upper one of the white like the gown and the under one pale green. Plaitings form the elbow sleeves and the bertha finish around the neck of the simply gathered bodice, falling below a narrow band of the lace. The girdle belt is of lace, having the appearance of being a continuation of the hip yoke. Any delicate shade may be used in place of the green and the effect is most beautiful.

Home-made Panne Velvet.

As panne velvet is used so much for

A woman who has in her the sav-agery of the devli may also have in her the sweetness of the saint. Why should a woman everlastingly want to be a man? To take the rough and scuff of life? Little fool! Why isn't she content to sit on silken cush-ions in her glass case and feed on nectar of roses? Why does she cry for her "rights?" It is her "right" to be man's comfort, man's solace, man's holiday.

Every man needs some woman to hang on to his coat tails to keep him from going to the devil. A man loves a woman because she's a woman. A woman loves a man for the want of something better to love. SQUANDERED BLESSINGS.

Ws often tire of what seems vain en-For happy things, and think the world goes wrong, And wonder if our plans must fail forever,

Till minor chords prevail in life's And the fair flowers growing in the meadows Through which our pathways lead us day by day

We do not see, because our trouble's shadows Hide all that's beautiful and bright

We spend today in dreaming of tomorrow, And, when tomorrow comes, our hearts will inv

Plans for the future, thinking o'er in sorrow The squandered blessings of the yes-We fail to learn the lesson of our

We grasp at things forever out of And grope our way through shadows, bearing crosses

Made out of bitterness of thought and speech. We lose the little joys of life forever in longing after what we cannot

And by and by, when Hope says sadly, For what we's missed we sigh-but

If we could take life's blessings as we find them, Making the most of bright or cloudy

Departing, they would leave content behind them.

And vain regret would no more vex our ways.

-Eben E. Rexford.

Thoughts For All Time.

It is not so much the inteleletual life as it is the moral life that makes us human; it is the life of moral excel-lence; it is conscience which is good, which is virtue, which is holiness.—
Bishop Spalding.
Yes, love has wrought, and love alone
The victories all—beneath, above;
And earth and heaven shall shout as one,

The all-triumphant song of love!
—Sister Violante DeDeo.
Sow good services; sweet remembrance will grow from them.
Things look dim to old folks; they'd need have some young eyes about 'em, to let 'em know the world's the same as it used to be.—George Eliot. What is experience? A poor little hut constructed from the ruins of the palace of gold and marble called out illusions.—Abbe Roux. Strength must be found in thought or it will never be found in the words Big sounding words, without thoughts corresponding, are effort without ect.

fect.

Be patient! On the breathing page
Still pants our hurried past;
Pilgrim and soldier, saint and sage—
The poet comes the last!

How Mark Twain Apologized.

How Mark Twain Apologized.
At one time of his life Mark Twain (Samuel L. Clemens) had for his neighbors Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe and her daughters. The great humorist had a habit of often running in to see them in a shabby costume, much to the disgust of Mrs. Clemens.
One morning, as he returned from Mrs. Stowe's minus necktie and collar, Mrs. Clemens met him on the doorstep.
"There, now," she said, "you have been over to the Stowes' again without a necktie! It's really disgraceful the way you neglect your attire!"
Her husband said nothing, but went up to his room. A few minutes later or it is food as essential as bread and the child are no longer considered panied by the following note: "Here advisable, principally because they mean work.

Glycerine as a Hair Tonic.

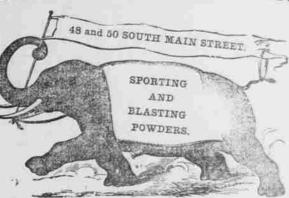

Glycerine as a Hair Tonic.

Women have been twenty years for cleanliness is never taken into continuous it is the only one I have. Mark Twain,"

CUNNINGTON & CO.,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Hardware and Groceries.

MINERS' SUPPLIES OF ALL KINDS

Mail Orders Given Prompt Attention.

SAM'L H. HILL, Supt.

WHAT IS WORTH DOING IS WORTH DOING WELL

GOOD PRINTING, GOOD BLANK BOOK MAKING.

A good motto-one we try to live up to.

The F. W. Gardiner Co.,

113 South West Temple Street.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

The King of Christmastide

is by universal consent the majests turkey, the royal bird of the feast Palace Meat Market, by careful selection in the early actumn, have the plei of the flock to offer their customers.

PALAGE MEAT MARKET, 263-265 South Main,

THOS. J. NIPPER, Prop.

 Huddart Floral Co.

214 East Second South St.

'Phone 37. P. T. Huddart, Mgr. Telegraph and telephone orders promptly filled.

Place your orders now for Christmas to ensure the best and American Beauty Roses, Tea Roses, Carnations, Violets, Holly Wreaths, Loose Holly, Mistletce, Green Festooning, Xmas Trees, Needle Pines, etc. Decorations and memorial designs, Get our prices. Visitors welcome

FROST-BITES AND CHILBLAINS

Instantly relieved and cured by using Pitts INFALLIBLE CHILRLAIN remedy. It never fails. That not painful, irritating, itchy sensation disappears like magic with one or two applications. It will also give quick relief in muscular rheumatism, neuralism, suprains, preliers, and aveilings. raigh, sprains, bruises and swellings Suits both the old and the young. Our be sent by mail in bottles, 25c and 50c

THE OLD RELIABLE Godbe-Pitts Drug Co.,

Corner Main and First South, Sait Lake City,

MORRISON, MERRILL & COMPANY,

INCORPORATED. JOBBERS AND DEALERS IN-Lumber, Shingles,

Mouldings, Doors, Windows,

Hair, Cement, Building Papers, Coal Tar.

LARGEST STOCK OF MINING TIMBER IN UTAH.

SALT LAKE CITY, Third West Street, Between 1st and 2d North. Telephone No. 501.

Chandeliers, Electric Wiring, Electric Supplies.

Intermountain Electric Co.,

Salt Lake City, Utah.

UTAH COAL.

Castle Gate, Sunnyside, Winter Quarter, Clear Creek,
Lump, Nut and Slack,
Anthracite (all sizes), Coke, Charcoal,
Blacksmith.

P. V. COAL CO.,

Telephone 42. D. J. SHARP, Agent.